A BILL

To designate the area between the intersections of 16th Street, Northwest and Fuller Street, Northwest and 16th Street, Northwest and Euclid Street, Northwest in Washington, District of Columbia, as “Oswaldo Payá Way”.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. FINDINGS.

4 Congress finds that—

5 (1) the dictatorship imposed by Fidel Castro in 6 Cuba in 1959 started 61 years of an ongoing dicta-7 torship, systemic human rights abuses, and a lack of

1        basic freedom of press, religion, assembly, and asso-
2        ciation that continue to this day under Communist 3        rule;

4            (2) Oswaldo Payá Sardiñas was a Cuban pro-
5        democracy activist dedicated to promoting demo-
6        cratic freedoms and human rights in Cuba;

7            (3) the Communist Party of Cuba has always 8        viewed that commitment to democracy and freedom
9        as a threat to the existence of the Communist Party
10       of Cuba;

11           (4) on July 22, 2012, a violent car crash, wide-
12       ly believed to have been carried out by the Castro re-
13       gime, took the lives of Oswaldo Payá and Harold 14       Cepero, another prodemocracy activist;

15           (5) the regime in Cuba has offered no plausible
16       evidence of the innocence of the Castro regime in the 17       crash, leaving the circumstances of the death of 18       Oswaldo Payá suspicious;

19           (6) opposition by Oswaldo Payá to the Com-
20       munist Party of Cuba began at a young age, when 21       he refused to become a member of the Young Com-
22       munist League as a primary school student, and 23       continued through high school, when he publicly
24       criticized the invasion of Czechoslovakia by the So-
25       viet Union;

1           (7) the Communist Party of Cuba responded to 2           the opposition by Oswaldo Payá to the invasion of 3           Czechoslovakia by the Soviet Union by sending 4           Oswaldo Payá to a labor camp for 3 years;

5           (8) Oswaldo Payá forewent a chance to escape
6           Cuba in the 1980 Mariel boatlift, deciding instead to 7           continue the fight for democracy in Cuba, saying,
8           “‘This is what I am supposed to be, this is what I 9           have to do.’”;

10          (9) Oswaldo Payá repeatedly demonstrated his 11          staunch commitment to peacefully advocating for 12          freedom of speech, religious liberty, and freedom of 13          assembly for his fellow Cubans;

14          (10) in recognition of his determination for po-
15          litical reforms through peaceful protests, Oswaldo
16          Payá was awarded the Sakharov Prize for Freedom
17          of Thought by the European Parliament in 2002
18          and the W. Averell Harriman Democracy Award
19          from the National Democratic Institute for Inter-20          national Affairs in 2003 and was nominated for the 21          Nobel Peace Prize by former Czech President Václav
22          Havel in 2005;

23          (11) on April 11, 2018, the Senate unanimously
24          passed S. Res. 224, recognizing the sixth anniver-
25          sary of the death of Oswaldo Payá Sardiñas, com-

1 memorating his legacy and commitment to demo-
2 cratic values and principles, and calling for an im-
3 partial, third-party investigation into the cir-
4 cumstances surrounding his death; and

5 (12) renaming the street in front of the Em-
6 bassy of Cuba in the District of Columbia after 7 Oswaldo Payá serves as an expression of solidarity
8 between the people of the United States and the peo-
9 ple of Cuba, who are engaged in a long, nonviolent 10 struggle for fundamental human rights.
