

1 A JOINT RESOLUTION directing the Tourism, Arts and Heritage Cabinet to 2 develop a Kentucky Women's History Trail.

3 WHEREAS, throughout Kentucky's history, women have made renowned 4 contributions to the growth and strength of Kentucky; and

5 WHEREAS, many generations of women have helped advance the state through 6 economic, cultural, and social adversity, such as Laura Clay, a native of Richmond,
7 Kentucky, who was the co-founder and first president of the Kentucky Equal Rights
8 Association and a leader in the American women's suffrage movement; and Mary Todd 9 Lincoln, a native of Lexington, Kentucky, who stood courageously by her husband, 10 President Abraham Lincoln, while they led our nation through some of the deadliest and 11 darkest days of its history in the Civil War; and

12 WHEREAS, the women of Kentucky have consistently broken glass ceilings and 13 blazed a trail for future women in historically male dominated fields such as aviation, 14 music, and literature; and

15 WHEREAS, the list of remarkably talented Kentucky women is extensive and 16 includes Willa Brown, a native of Glasgow, Kentucky, who became the first African 17 American woman in the United States to earn a pilot's license and ultimately became the 18 first African American officer in the Civil Air Patrol, the first American woman to hold 19 both a mechanic's license and commercial pilot's license, and the first African American 20 woman to run for the United States Congress; Bobbie Ann Mason, a native of Mayfield, 21 Kentucky, who is a novelist, short story writer, essayist, and literary critic. In 1985, she 22 published her first novel, In Country, which was made into a feature film. Her memoir 23 was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize; and the coal miner's daughter, Loretta Lynn, who was 24 born into poverty in Butcher Hollow, Johnson County, Kentucky, married and left home 25 at 15 years old, and ultimately to become one of the most beloved country music legends
26 of all time. These great women paved the way and made it possible for future generations 27 of women to follow in their footsteps; and

1 WHEREAS, women continue to be leaders of social change, business, government, 2 and more; and

3 WHEREAS, the sacrifices these and many other women have made has created a 4 more fair and just society for everyone;
