- Requires reports to be submitted as soon as possible, but within 24 hours, after receiving information of child abuse or neglect; except that reports concerning young victims of dating violence or sexual assault must be made within 72 hours;

- Provides that reports are not required if the person:
 - Receives the information outside of the person's professional capacity that would require a report; or
 - Is connected to an attorney representing a party involved in a suspected child abuse or neglect case that would require a report under current law;
- Removes victim's advocates from the list of professions required to report child abuse or neglect;
- Prohibits reports based solely on a family's race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, or disability; and
- Prohibits the delegation of the duty to report to a person who does not have firsthand knowledge of the suspected child abuse or neglect.

For entities that employ a mandatory reporter, the bill:

- Authorizes the entity to develop protocols for making the report if the protocols comply with state law and regulations; and
- Prohibits representatives of the entity from deterring or impeding a person from filing a report.

The bill requires a county department of human or social services (county department) to assign a referral identification number to each report of child abuse or neglect. If a mandatory reporter contacts a county department about a suspected child abuse or neglect report and the department gives the mandatory reporter the referral identification number of a related report that was previously filed, the mandatory reporter is not required to file a written report.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) (a) The general assembly finds that complete reporting of known or suspected child abuse or neglect is a matter of public concern and that it is the intent of the general assembly to protect the best interests of children in this state and to offer protective services in order to prevent any further harm to children suffering from abuse.

(b) The general assembly further finds that requiring people to

1 report known or suspected child abuse or neglect impacts the people
2 reporting, as well as children and families who are the subjects of the 3 reports. As a result of implicit bias, under-resourced communities,
4 communities of color, and persons with disabilities are disproportionately
5 impacted by the mandatory reporting system.

6 (2) (a) To address these impacts and additional issues, the general
7 assembly established the mandatory reporting task force in 2022, which 8 was charged with making findings and recommendations to clarify the 9 law and recommending changes to mandatory reporting procedures and 10 trainings.

11 (b) The task force found that:

12 (I) Colorado's mandatory reporting law and system for making
13 reports disproportionately impacts families of color, people with 14 disabilities, and under-resourced communities, resulting in some contacts
15 with child protection services that are unnecessary;

16 (II) Colorado's mandatory reporting law requires mandatory
17 reporters to report circumstances that may not involve the safety of 18 children;

19 (III) By forcing mandatory reporters to report all concerns through 20 the child abuse hotline, Colorado's mandatory reporting law requires 21 professionals to engage child protection services with families that do not
22 require their services;

23 (IV) Cases that do not involve concerns of child safety may not
24 get adequate attention because the system is overwhelmed by reports. A 25 lack of training perpetuates this issue.

26 (V) Colorado's mandatory reporting law may hinder certain 27 professionals from forming trusted relationships with children and

1 families.

2 (c) To address these issues, the task force issued 24
3 recommendations to the general assembly. The task force's
4 recommendations are intended to provide a comprehensive approach to 5 improving the mandatory reporting system, including clarifying the law,
6 standardizing practices and training, and creating alternative reporting
7 methods.

8 (d) Therefore, the general assembly finds and declares that the 9 first step in comprehensively improving the mandatory reporting system
10 is to implement the task force's recommendations to address clarity in the 11 law. These clarifications will serve as the foundation for further 12 improvements to the mandatory reporting system.

13 (e) The general assembly further declares that the task force's
14 continuum of recommendations must be implemented in whole to 15 effectively serve children and families.
